Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Brief Sketch of the Life and Character of Mrs. Elizabeth Adams To cherish the memory of departed friends, is the natural consequence of affection for them. To call up afresh to our minds, the views and feelings which we have long and habitually entertained, in regard to their virtues, their kind offices to us, and their benevolence and beneficence toward others, and to dwell on the remembrance of these, after they who exhibited them have bid the world adieu, affords a kind of mournful pleasure to those, whose hearts are bleeding with the loss which they have sustained. So natural are these alleviations of the cup of sorrow, drunk by those who have been called to part with near and dear friends, that they are always instinctively resorted to in the hour of distress; nor can all which has been said against obituary notices and funeral panegyrics in general, change the feelings and practice of such as come themselves to drink the bitter cup of sorrow to its dregs. It must be granted, however, by every sober and candid man, that much has been said, on the subject of extolling the merits and virtues of deceased friends, which is just. It must also be conceded, that every protestation against overcharging with colours a picture of this kind, deserves the strictest and most scrupulous attention.
