Excerpt: .from yon distant Shore of Shade Should come and say, Long time thou here hast stayed, Away with me to-night! And far beyond the sight Of men should waft me out upon the sea, --Oh! say, what would the written record be, If I should die to-night 1 No terror would affright, No quailing at the billows ceaseless boom; No boding fear of boundless, rayless gloom, And chill and damp of night. But when the last warm light Of life, a burned-out candle s glow, Shines o er the fledted years, what would it show, If I should die to-night 1 Pale, tearful Sorrow s blight. As frost in June upon the tender flowers, Full oft descends to pierce these hearts of ours And turn our day to night; Then when all s still and white, From out his humble place will one draw near, And say I kissed away one bitter tear, If I should die to-night 1 The wide world seeketh light. The base, the false, the many long have curst And wanton hid, tho faint their souls athirst, The well-springs from their sight; But would one pause to write That ever I hoar Age or ruddy Youth Did point to fountains of Eternal Truth, If I should die to-night 1 Now reigns the tyrant Might And crushes low the weak, for he is strong; With each succeeding sun red-handed Wrong Doth triumph over Right. But from the hate and spite, Would...
